Through the efforts of the Oregon Educational and Public Broadcasting Service (OEPBS) and Oregon State University, all the episodes of these two well known, conversational German language series are available free of charge, in color, in sixty (60) half hour segments via the PBS INTERCONNECT SYSTEM.

There are thirty (30) programs in each series with each episode comfortably filling a 30 minute time period. Each series was designed for a entire school year. However, special arrangements have been made for adaptation into either a semester or trimester format. Potential users must bear the cost of the raw tape.
